Dear Josh:

I received a copy of your article in The Washington Post on July 31, 1971. I am afraid that much of what you say is not out of date. I am particularly struck by your last two paragraphs, as I indeed shared the same kind of basic "upbringing".

I do not have a very good suggestion on how to alter the current courses of action by the Federal Government.

Thanks again for your note.

Best regards,
